

2010 YOUTH SAFETY CONFERENCE

presented by

MOTORSPORTS
@IUPUI

They're only quarter midgets, make sure they're 100 percent safe.

- When – Friday December 3, 2010
- Where – Indiana Convention Center, Indianapolis
- Why – Young racers have special safety needs
- Who – Dr. Terry Trammel M.D., internationally respected authority on adult and youth racing safety

Register to attend the inaugural IMIS Youth Safety Conference, held at the 2nd Annual International Motorsports Industry Show this December in Indianapolis. This special Youth Safety Conference, hosted by Dr. Terry Trammel, will address the special safety needs of young racers and how their parents can help protect them and win races.

As a bonus, the IMIS Youth Safety Conference attendees, escorted by their parents, can attend the International Motorsports Industry Show on Friday, December 3rd to see what's new in youth safety equipment. With over 500 hardcore racing companies present, there's something for everyone.

Register to attend by logging on to: IMIS-INDY.com and clicking on the Safety Conference.

Join Dr. Terry Trammel, retired Director of CART Medical Services, for the International Motorsports Industry Inaugural Youth Safety Conference.